

The business of getting back to Business

The crisis is over and you have responded. The systems are running and the applications are available. The insurance claims are being filed.

Now, how do you get back to business as usual?

ITC recovery services provides a wide range of offerings that allows you to implement a disaster recovery plan tailored to whatever your specific needs and requirements are based on the type of crisis you have experienced.

ITC recovery services offer:

- Professional advice from a risk management team with in-depth expertise in managing disaster situations.
- Skilled resources to supplement your staff, some of whom may not be available during a crisis.
- Communication strategies to respond quickly to employee and client concerns, including the implementation of a command center when applicable.
- Pre-crisis formation of an Emergency Operations Center (EOC) to orchestrate your continuity activities across the organization.
- Recognized delegates to interface with insurance companies and government agencies as advocates for your financial interests.
- Quick, informed decisions on how best to resume business operations.

Let one of our experienced risk management consultants show you how to have greater confidence in getting your business back to doing business. Let ITC provide you with the Total Protection your organization needs.

ITC is your Total Protection Solutions Provider.
